DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
4. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over APA (Applicant's Prior Art) figures 1-3 and the corresponding pages of the specification in view of Shioya et al. (USP 6,088,244). APA (see APA figure 1) discloses the claimed invention, a primary side, NP, a switching element, Q1, a secondary side, Ns, a for rectifying, D5, a constant voltage control circuit, 22, an over current circuit, 24, an over voltage circuit, 26, a photo coupler, IC2, a switching control circuit, 14, a latch circuit, 16, except for a photo coupler control circuit. Shioya discloses that it is known in the art to provide a photo coupler control circuit. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to provide the use of a photo coupler control circuit of Shioya with the controlled switching converter of APA, in order to provide a more precise control of the output voltage based on the output control circuit and the detected output voltage and thereby sending the electrically isolated signal to the primary side of the circuit.
